WEDNESDAY MORNING, JULY 11, 1966.

The Colorado River Route. Yesterday we received a cal from Rr. Adams, who with Chat. The worthy, has succeed Seed Navantice Company," who have established line of steamers between Sun rancine and Callville, which is at the bead of navigition on the Colorado river. This organization is one that deserves every encouragement from the business men of this Territory as well as those of Ida-De and Montana. There is no doubt that this is the most practicable route for the transportation of freight for

See Francisco or New York.

Sererel, steamers and sailing ressels neve already been loaded at San Franeiseo for the Colorado, and two cargoes of merchandise for this city have left New Work for the same place. we The distance from Callville to this the about 400 miles, and this can be

Bish. Idaho and Montana, from both reduced to at least 350 miles by a very masses over a fine level country that is to well padanted to freighting, and merhandise can be transported for from five to eight cents per pound, while the freight from San Francisco is from three and whalf to four cents per pound, and aren from New York the tariff is not much if any higher. After the line is fairly opened the entire cost of freight-Oing from New York or San Francisco to this city by the Colorado River route will not average more than ten cents per pound. At the present time we are paying fifteen cents per pound in gold for freight from San Francisco to this city by the overland route, and from fifteen to eighteen cents in currency from the Missouri river to this city, the great difference in prices between the two shameful monopoly of the California Teamsters' Association, an organization which is defended by some of the San Francisco, which are making strenuous of country. "It costs the merchants of Montana. who bring their freight from San Francisco to Virginia City via Columbia river, from 35 to 45 cents in gold, and the route is not open more, than six months in a year, and the Chico route is not much more economical or reliable. Let the Colorado route open and we believe it will be but a short time before the larger share of Idaho and Montana freight passes through this city.

efforts to obtain the trade of this section

The objection that the Colorado river contains obstructions is entirely unfoundthoroughly acquainted with the river, states in his communications to the San Francisco Call and the Flag that no such obstructions exist, and the people of Callville, who claim that the Navigation Company are delaying their boats in proger to obtain a bonus from Congress, do the company, injustice, as they have albeen strongly opposed to the schemes of a dique of Arizona politicians cional appropriation for the benefit of their own pockets, as is shown by the published letters we have already men-

There is one thing, however, that Congrees should do, and that is to assist in building a railread from Callville to this Our business men have already forwarded a petition to this effect to thing up with energy until the necessary aid is obtained. San Francisco should also lend a helping hand in the matter, for let this object be accomplished—a o'clock in the morning, when the last string broke and the dance was forced to stop. trade of Utah, Idaho and Montana.

Correspondence.

Malad City, I. T., July 5, 166. Of all the good days in all the good year, commend me to the Anniversary of American Independence—the ever glorione Fourth of July! How the head warms and glows with patislotic ferror as each encounding year brings around our natel day, and finds us, in spits of domestic fends and toreign foes. SAUS THE PROPERTY STATE respected abroad. After five long years of fearint storm and strile, how brightly beams the new era of our national glory and greatness. We have a right to rejoice. What has been called the un sable egotion of our orators and statesmen le but legitimate praise. The of his Excellency makes a temporary vapast needs no applegy—the present cancy in the Governorship, which, howbrightest promise, and the man who doubte or induires in crocking tears, in a but of the first water, standing with out the pale of civilization, having not and viginity, swembled on masse to honor the day and the occasion, and I pro tem. Executive.

We wish the Governor a pleasant trip much doubt if there was a more satisfactory or, "considering its size," a more satisfactory or, "considering its size," a more satisfactory or considering its size," a more satisfactory by the satisfactory of the south of the national state of the national state of the satisfactory of the south of the satisfactory of the satisfactory of the south of the satisfactory of t erected, one side of which was assigned to the Commissary Department, while the main portion was devoted to the speakers' stand and the auditorium. The day was usbured in by an anvil salute of thisteen guns, the first, probably, that our spoke for Liberty in all this fair our pleasant valles. The greater part of the improvement was devoted to hope of farious kinds, among which hopeded force racing appeared to be averlies. Your covernables to be vorites (Your correspondent has no doubt that some excellent time was made, but not being posted relative to the technical terms of the course, he will not attempt a critical report.) At 12 o'clock a Federal salute was fired, after which the people repaired to the Bowery, where the exercises were commenced by a song, "Hall, Smiling Morn," by the Maind Glee Club, fellowod by a prayer from the Chaptain, Rev. B. C. Moore. The reading of the Declaration of Independence, by R. F. White, Bog., whe listened to with marked attention, and received with general applause. The Glee Club then sung The Star Spangled Banner." after which M. A. Carter, Eeq., delivered an elegant eration, suitable to the occasion. reviewing the blatory of the country from the passage of the Stamp Act to the present time, a synapsis of which I would be glad to send you were I not limited as to space in your columns. The oration was followed by "America," by the Glee Clab, then a "few remarks" by one whom native (American) modesty orbids me to mention, and then ad journment to the dinner tables.

Were you ever present at a thanksgiving dinner, in the land of the Pilgrims, when the tables creaked and groaned under the over-load of good things heaped upon them? If so, you can form some idea of the bountiful manner in which the ladies of Malad provided for the wants of the inner man on this occasion. If Walter Bray could have seen the layout, he would have forgotten his famous ball-supper and gone into ecstacies over his reminiscences of Oneids county! I annot do justice to the dinner here, but I will venture to say that I did full justice to it yesterday. If you don't believe it, ask the fair ladies who waited upon the tables! Upwards of three hundred men, women and children partook and were satisfied, and the fragments that remained would have gladdened the hearts of a score of Aldermen. After linner the people engaged in games "and other innocent amusements," and not until the sunset salute had boomed upon the air, did they disperse to their homes.

ment on the double-quick. The cotillions are like charges of cavalry, and the waltz and the schottisch cause even the floor and walls to tremble. On this particular occasion if every one was not graceful and happy, then there is no poetry in motion and no virtue in dancing. The only disappointment that occurred was the failure of the musicians to come to time. An express had been sent twenty-ave miles away, and two violinists engaged, and the prospect, for the dance, was exceedingly unfavorable. But fortunately some one succeeded in confiscating an old fiddle from a passing wagon, a discharged C. V. (who, by the way, discharged himself last winter from the Provost Guard) was pressed into service as musician, and the dance commenced, and was kept up as long as the Washington; and they should follow the old fiddle held together. You may have seen Ephe Horn play his banje until nothing but the bridge remained? Well, so did the C. V. saw and sweat until two o'clock in the morning, when the last

New York, July 9. Liberal contributions have been and are being made in all the cities East and West for the relief of the sufferers by the Portland fire. Details by mail show that the first reports were not exaggerated. Fully one-third of the city area was overrun by fire, and a third of the population rendered houseless. The following is a brief recapitulation: 8 churches, viz, 2d and 3d Congregational, Pearl St. Tniversalist, 1st Baptist, St. Stephens Cathodral, Bethel Sweedenborgan and Catholic Chapel with Bishop Bacon's residence and Convent School. The banks destroyed are, 1st and 2d National, Canal Bank, National 5 cents Savings' Bank, Manufacturers and Traders' Na-Portland fire. Details by mail show Bank, Manusuoturers and Traders Na-tional Bank, National Bunk of Cumber-land and Merchants National Bank. Newspaper offices destroyed are, Press, Argus, Advertiser, Evening Star, Christian Mirror and Transcript; first four being daily papers. Of the hotels, Woods marble building, Elm, Commercial, International, Albion and American. It is useless to specify further, and it has been impossible to calculate the losses or ascertain the insurances. The behavior of the people has been beyond praise. Order has been preserved throughout these exciting days and the inhabitants have vied with each other, and with good people, who, from all neighboring towns, have hurried to their relief. The Post's money article says: The prominent topic of Wall street is large on foreign orders for Government securities. Loan market is easy, but more active; stock market more animated.

Landan correspondence gives a full summary of the preceedings of the Ministry on the Reform bill.

The Ministry had constantly carried their points by in jorities ranging from 5 to 27, when Lord Dunkeldn moved that the basis of borouga franchies should be £7 rats le value instead of £7 reutal value, which estimate would make a difference of $1.000 to a sous in the numbers.

ough franchise should be £7 rath le value instead of £7 rental value, which estimate would haske a difference of $\phi$,000 ; e sous in the number designed to be qualified, £7 ratable being equal to £9 rental. The question resulted, $000 for the Ministry and $17 for Dunkillen's motion, and Parisament adjustice to await results.

All parties were already rallying for the popular case, an interior has for Grachisement proposed in the bill the Ministry are not under any discumstances or condit have prepared to record by it we intend to stand."

The Leadon Times endeavors to midgate and explain away the division which it considers as dealing with mere deasi; and affirms thus it had no necessary bear no upon the only aprhopie now allowed to be in question. The admission of so many thousand poor electors and the entergement of con-timency has not been definitely put to the House.

The Loadon News may that they the Derbytice) know well enough that apart from all sources about variation, the meshing of total amendment was maining more nor flust tonal amendment was maining more nor flust tonal the section. Let trust their fellow countrymen who might be included in a £7 franchise, and he design. The is the issue yet to be tried by the Liberal party and the great body of the people of this country.
